

Dr. Robert Rapčan is a pain specialist certified in Czech Republic and Slovakia, and anaesthesiologist and intensive care specialist certified in Sweden, Norway, Great Britain, Czech Republic and Slovakia. He is an expert in pain treatment using interventional techniques under fluoroscopic and ultrasound guidance. Dr. Rapčan holds the prestigious certification of the World Institute of Pain board (WIP) – Fellow of Interventional Pain Practice (FIPP) and the Master degree in ultrasound-guided regional anaesthesia and pain management techniques from Vienna, Austria. His main clinical interest is in endoscopic techniques within spinal canal (epiduroscopy, endoscopic discectomy), neuromodulation techniques and radiofrequency denervations.

Dr. Robert Rapcan currently works as a medical director and Consultant Pain Specialist in EuroPainClinics (www.europainclinics.com).

Memberships

- Spine Intervention Society (SIS)
- Slovak Pain Society (SSSLB)
- Slovak Interventional Pain Society (SIA) - founder, president
- International Neuromodulation Society (INS)
- European Society of Regional Anaesthesia (ESRA)
- Polish Interventional Pain Society

External clinical work and international collaborations

Hudiksvall General Hospital, Sweden (Consultant in Anaesthesia and Intensive Care), 2010–present

EuroPainClinics (Medical Director, Consultant in Pain Medicine), 2013–present

United Kingdom Specialist Hospitals, England (Medical Director, Lead Anaesthesiologist and Pain Physician), 2005–2010

Norrlands University Hospital, Sweden (Consultant in Anaesthesia and Intensive Care), 2000–2005

St Jacob's Hospital, Slovak Republic (Resident, Anaesthesia and Intensive Care), 1993-2000

Hobbies and family

Ironman, martial arts, cross-country skiing.

Married with Dr. Janette Rapcanova, a dermatologist. Father of two daughters, Sonja (15) and Simona (21).